CAPT. EAKINS'S DEFENCE.

A DOCTOR OF DIVINITY TESTIFIES TO HIS EFFICIENCY.

The Fifteenth Precinct Never So Orderly as Sisce He Took Command-St. Clem-ent's Sexton Also Testifies for Sim. The investigation of the charges against Capt. Eaking of the Mercer street station was continued before Commissioner Andrews yesterday afternoon. The first witness called was the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Millard, who lives at 133 West Fourth street. He gave evidence in Capt. Eakins's favor. He said that he first went to live in his present neighborhood in 1891. At that time it was a common thing to see women soliditing passers by on the streets. There had been a great change during the last year, and it was his opinion that the change was the direct esult of efficiency on the part of the police. The witness said that he often had been approached by women, but that now such a thing never occurred. A year ago hundreds of women were seen promensaling the streets, but this was all done away with. The moral condition of the neighborhood where he lived was greatly imroved. He also said that his assistants in the ministry had called his attention to the improved moral condition of the Fifteenth pre-

Dr. Millard declared emphatically that it was through the activity of the police that prostitutes had been driven out of West Third, Thompson, West Fourth, and Macdougal streets since Jan. 1. In answer to Mr. Moss's question the witness said that he had been associated with Dr. Parkhurst and the Society for the Prevention of Crime in the work of eradicating houses of ill fame in the city of New York.

Mr. Moss subjected Dr. Millard to a severe cross-examination, but his efforts to shake the witness's evidence failed. The answers made by the witness strengthened his evidence in favor of Capt. Eakins. He asserted that the change in the moral condition of the Fifteenth precinct was due to the Captain of the precinct.
"Are not the agents of the society entitled to ome credit for this change?" asked Mr. Moss. The witness replied that he admired the work of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, but that the credit of cleaning out the precinct was mainly due to the police.

The next witness was Henry Simpson of 302

Bleecker street, who is sexton of St. Clement's Episcopal Church. He testified that there was great improvement in the condition of the neighborhood. Unfortunate women had long ceased to annoy the church and its attendants. Gustave Handte, an insurance adjuster, who lives at 134 West Fourth street, also testified that there was a marked improvement in the condition of the precinct. He said that dissoin the neighborhood where he lived. The locality, he said, used to be a hotbed of vice. The ity, he said, used to be a hotbed of vice. The witness also testified to the good character of Stevenson's saloon and the Golden Swan. He never saw lewd women in these places. Handte declared that there was formerly a whole row of French houses on West Third street, but they had all been suppressed. Mr. Moss subjected the witness to a rigid examination. He asked him about the character of Mr. Wallace, who runs the Golden Swan. Handte said he knew nothing against the man.

"Did you know Blumenthai?" asked Mr. Moss.

Moss.

"No, not by name."

"No, not by name."

Lawyer Hess objected to Mr. Moss's line of tross-examination.

"Why," said Mr. Moss, "this man Blumenthal is down on the blotters of Capt. Eakins's station house as bondsman to the extent of $30,-300.

what is false," said Lawyer Hess. "You know it is false, and I challenge you to show a single entry of that kind since Jan. 1. You have he right to go back of Jan. 1."
"Bu not be so direct in your charges of faisification, my boy," said Mr. Moss, "because it is a fact that Blumenthal has given bonds in Capt. Eakins's station to the extent of about $30,000, while he is absolutely worthless. It was public acandai."

while he is absolutely worthless. It was public scandai."

Lawyer Heas replied that there was not a single entry of the kind referred to since Jan. I, the period included in the charges.

Bartholomew (iray, a livery stable keeper at 122 West Third street, testified that since dan. I last a great change had taken place in the moral condition of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Adeline Schmidt, a widow, who has kept a bakery and lunch room at 15 West Third street for seven years, said that the neighborhood used to be crowded with fast women, but that within the past year things had changed. There were formerly many bad houses, but all had been closed.

the past year things had changed. There were formerly many bad houses, but all had been closed.

George Clarke, who has been in the shoemaker supplies business at 207 Wooster street for thirteen years, said that several houses of prostitution which were open last year in his neighborhood had been closed since Jan. 1. Clarke told Mr. Moss that he volunteered as a witness. He said he believed there was something personal working against the Captain, and he offered to appear as a witness because he considered an injustice was being done the Captain.

"Capt. Eakins has done more good in that precinct than any other Captain that has been there in twenty years," added Clarke.

Alexander Felline, a grocer at 221 Wooster street, testified that he used to sell goods to the occupants of 200, 224, 230, and 320 Wooster street, testified that he used to sell goods to the occupants of 200, 224, 230, and 320 Wooster street, which were disorderly houses. The houses were closed six months ago. He said the neighborhood was much improved.

Charles Taxier, a dry goods dealer at 75 West Third street, and Benjamin Saidel, a broker, living at 44 South Washington square, with an office at 17 Wooster street, gave testimony relative to the general improvement of the precinct. Policeman John Crinnion testified that he never saw anything wrong about Daly's Hotel, the Florida, St. Lawrence, or Wuifers's saloon in Thirteenth street. He never heard that they were regarded as disorderly houses until he read of the charges against Capt. Eakins. In answer to Lawyer Moss's questions, Crinnion said he never saw prostitutes enter any of the places mentioned. He had been on post on answer to Lawyer Moss's questions, Timbon as id he never saw prostitutes enter any of the places mentioned. He had been on post on Thirteenth street at night for eighteen months. He admitted having seen couples go into these houses, but the women were not proetitutes, so far as he knew. He never made it his business to inquire into the character of the houses on his nest.

"And why didn't you?" asked Mr. Moss.
"I thought the Captain knew all about it."

"And why didn't you?" asked Mr. Moss.
"I thought the Captain knew all about it."
answered Crinnion.

Policeman James McGrath of the Mercer street station said in answer to Mr. Moss's questions that he had always considered Wulfer's asloon and the Hotel Jerome, which were on his post, as orderly places. He had seen women going in and out of the two places and speaking to men on the streets, but he had never seen any soliciting. He had never arrested any women as street walkers.

In answer to Lawyer Hess, McGrath said that Capt. Eakins had, almost every night, instructed the men going out on the first tour at 6 o'clock to be vigilant in enforcing the Excise law, to arrest women who solicited, and to try by every means in their power to prevent crime. He had mot the Captain patrolling the precinct at all hours of the sight and early morning.

Commissioner Parker questioned the witness rigidly, but did not succeed in bringing out any new facts, with the exception of an acknowledgment from the witness that he had never stopped in front of either Wulfers's or the Hotel Jerone long enough to see whether disorderly characters stayed there for a considerable time or not. Lawyer Hess objected constantly to the Commissioner's questions.

A GIRL PICKET ARRESTED.

She Was Trying to Hring About a Strike in a Hobuken Cigarette Shop.

Annie Schenyer, a good-looking young woman who resides in this city, was a prisoner in the Hoboken Police Court yesterday morning. charged with intimidating the employees of the Commercial Union Cigarette Company, whose factory is at Hudson and Thirteenth streets.

The factory is a branch of one at 416 Broadway, this city, and was opened last May. Trouble arose over the fact that the factories were run as non-union shops, and the employees on this side of the river went out on strike. The unton also tried to have the Hoboken employees go out, but were unsuccessful.

For several days Miss Schenyer has been seen the neighborhood of the Habaken shop, where she would intercent the girls as they emerged and endenvor to induce them to strike. On Tuesday night she met Clara Hein, one of the best workers in the factory and called her a scan and several other opprobrious names. Miss Hein, at the instigation of Foreman Hirsch, swore out a warrant for her airrest. When arraigned resterday morning before acting Recorder McCulloch. Miss Schenyer promised not to bother the Hoboken employees any more, and was let off with a five-dollar fine.

He Admits Assaulting an Officer,

Lawrence Gilroy of 248 Monroe street, as cused of assaulting Policeman William O'Malley of the Union Market station, pleaded guilty yesterday in the General Sessions, before Recorder Goff. O'Mailey said that he heard a woman cry for neip at the foot of Stanton street on the night of June 28, and running in the di-rection whence the cry came, saw a young wo-nan struggling with Gilroy. The girl got free, and while placing Gilroy under arrest O'Malley rea assaulted. Gilroy was remanded until Fri-lay for sentence. DUNCAN CAMERON'S EXPENSES.

Compelled to Tell in Court What Re Buys and Who Pays for It, On the admissions made by Duncan Ewen Cameron, son of Sir Roderick Cameron, in his examination in supplementary proceedings as to his possessions, Justice Van Wyck of the City Court yesterday appointed Harry B. Farjeon receiver of his property. The examamination was made in an effort of Henry Lewis and G. F.

Valet to collect a judgment entered against him on March 5 last for jewelry costing $1,361.66. Cameron, who will be 29 years old in December, bought the jewelry in 1888, while he was in London, mainly for presents. He said he had not received a collegiate education, but was educated in schools in England. He lives with his father, who has a house at 185 Madison avenue and another at Clifton, S. I. He has never done any work, except for his father, whose business is the Pioneer line of vessels to Australia.

He said that his mother, who died in 1879, left her real estate to her husband for life, with the remainder to the children. He said he had given his father a mortgage of $15,600 on this literest for money advanced. He had united with his brother in giving his father another mortgage for $8,500 on the property for money expended by his father in erecting a stable, and the property was mortgaged for $10,000 before his mother's death. He had given the $15,000 mortgage to his father about four years after he purchased the jewiry in the suit. When the examination turned on what had become of the jewiry that had become of the jewiry that had become of the jewiry thin, and several brooches, and a couple of pins for myself. I also bought a cigaratte case for myself.

"To whom did you give the diamond ring and the brooches that you sneak of?"

"I gave them in London."

"To whom?"

"To whom?"

To whom?"
To a lady."
Did you give the brooches to the same per-"I gave the ring to one person and the brooches to another."

to another."

"Also a lady?"

"Ves."

"Were these ladies in public life?"

"One was and one was not. I gave the ring to the lady in private life."

He said he had subsequently given the pins to a male friend. He said he did not believe that all his jewelry would bring more than $200. He hasn't owned a horse since 1800. He averred that his father pays his expenses for social affairs and pays all his club dues. Then came these question and answers:

"Does he also pay for your clothing or do you have the proverbial tailor's bill?"

"Yes."

" Yes,"
" Do you?"
" When I can."
" So what clothing is actually paid for that you use is paid for by your father and what is not paid for by him the tailor waits for?"
" Yes, generally."

THE NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE. A Proposition from the Company Filed with the Commission.

A meeting of the new East River Bridge Commission was held yesterday afternoon at 300 Broadway, with all members except Mayor Strong present, Col. Andrew D. Baird, President of the Board, presided, and F. B. Thurber acted as secretary.

The Commissioners adopted a resolution requesting the officers of New York and Brooklyn o issue $25,000 worth of bonds to defray the expenses of the Commission.

Edward Lauterbach, counsel for the East River Bridge Company, filed the company's proposition to the Commission, but it was decided to defer the public hearing until Mayor Strong's return. The proposition is made in a voluminous document, containing an offer to deliver the company's rights and franchises for the bridge in question, several pieces of real estate, and a bank deposit of $55,000, for $200,000. The offer is made on the condition that the bridge and its approaches be so constructed that the trains of the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad Company may be operated over it. The men interested in the company, Mr. Lauterbach says, looked for their profit largely to the enhancement in the value of their holdings in the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad Company and offered the terms mentioned with a view to securing benefits for these companies.

The Executive Committee has arranged to meet a candidate for the office of chief engineer at Mayor Schieren's office in Brooklyn tomorrow, The Chambissioners refused to give the candidate's name.

Frank Sperry of Brooklyn and Frank E. Payey Strong's return. The proposition is made in a morrow. The Chmmissioners refused to give the candidate's name.

Frank Sperry of Brooklyn and Frank E. Pavey of New York were appointed special counsel to the Commission. Most of their work will be in condemnation proceedings. Mr. Pavey was recommended by James C. Carter and Elihu Root.

MRS. BLANEY'S FIRE ESCAPE FALL. She Said Her Husband Threw Her from

It, But Later Retracted. Edward J. Blaney, 63 years old, of 441 West Twenty-sixth street, who was arrested on Cuesday night on suspicion of having thrown his wife Sarah from the fire escape of their rooms on the fifth floor, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court yesterday morning. Mrs. crowd when Policeman Butler of the West Twentieth street station came running up. She told the policeman that her husband had pushed her off the fire escape and had then run pushed her off the fire escape and had then run away. Mrs. Blaney had been drinking and she talked very incoherently. An ambulance was called and Mrs. Blaney was taken to the New York Hospital. Here it was found that she was suffering from temporary paraivsis.

Hinney was arrested a short time after his wife was sent to the hospital. He was on his way home when taken in custody. He spent the night in the West Twentieth street station house.

In court yesterday morning he said he did not In court yesterday morning he said he did not throw his wife from the fire escape and was not in the house when she was injured. He said he was employed in the General Post Office as a sweeper, and that his wife spent most of the money he earned in drink.

Mrs. Hlaney retracted her accusation while her husband was in court, and her eight-year-old son, John, testified that she fell from the fire escape when forcing him to go indoors.

Magistrate Flammer discharged Blaney in the afternoon.

BILL JERSEY BE DRY ALSO? Hudson County Grand Jury Looking Into

Police officials from many parts of Hudson county were at the Court House in Jersey City from the Grand Jury. Chief of Police Murphy of Jersey City met Chief Simon Kelly of Weehawken and exchanged greetings with him. Chief Donovan of Hoboken and Chief McNeill of Bayonne had not been summoned, but several of the Jersey City Captains and the executive heads of the departments in the towns and townships were present. The utmost secresy was maintained as to the purpose for which they were called, but it was learned that the Grand Jury desired to be informed about what is being done in regard to the strict enforcement of the laws prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday. Whether the desired information was obtained or not is problematical.

It is said that an ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting of the Jersey City Board of Algermen similar to the ordinances now in force in Hoboken and Bayonne which give the local magistrates jurisdiction in excise cases. In Hoboken and Bayonne, where such ordinances have been passed, the local magistrates can deal with all cases of Sunday liquor selling and dispose of them finally, but where no ordinance is in force these cases must be dealt with under the State laws, and the offenders are liable to indictment. Chief Donovan of Hoboken and Chief McNetll

J. & J. DOBSON, 2 EAST 14th STREET.

He Abollahen that Having Special Charge

Commissioner Brookfield decided yesterday to abolish the Bureau of Street Improvements in the Department of Public Works. To this bu-reau was intrusted the work of regulating and grading streets, curbing and flagging them, and like improvements. All this work will be transferred on Aug. 1, when the new order of things will go into effect, to the Bureau of the Water Purveyor, and Consulting Engineer Stevenson Towle will be put in charge of it. Mr. Towle, who was a Park Commissioner during Mayor Grant's administration, resigned to become Consulting Engineer in the Debecome Consulting Engineer in the Department of Public Works, in charge of the work of repaying streets under the bill which permitted the expenditure of $1,000,000 a year for that purpose. There has been $6,000,000 expended in repaying streets under his direction, but as there was no authority to issue londs for any more such work last fall, Mr. Towle was put on the regular pay roll of the Water Purveyor at a salary of $5,000 a year. As Water Purveyor at a salary of $5,000 a year. As Water Purveyor at a salary of $5,000 a year. As Water Purveyor E. P. North is to look after the work of repaying authorized by the bill passed at the last Legislative assion, other employment was found for Mr. Towle.

By the abolishment of the Bureau of Street Improvements. Superintendent William M. Dean, one of the two Tainmany Hall heads of bureaus who have been permitted to remain by Commissioner Brookfield, will lose his $2,750 job. The other one is Superintendent Stephen McCormick of the Bureau of Lamps and Gas, who may also have to go.

Another important change in the Department of Public Works which will be effected on Aug. I will be the departure from office of General Inspector of Street Openings Nicholas R. O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor, who is a Harlem Tammany man, has held this $3,000 place for about six years. He has resigned. Commissioner Brookfield said yesterday that he has not determined yet whether he will appoint a successor to O'Connor. partment of Public Works, in charge of

ELEVENTH REGIMENT PUND.

It Has Dwindled from $7,000 to $1,500 in Litigation and the End is Not Yet.

A new phase of the fight which has been in rogress for years over the Eleventh Regiment Relief Fund was before Judge Stover, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday upon an application that Capt. Charles H. Collins, the trustee of the fund, be removed or compelled to give security as trustee.

The fund was raised by a fair and voluntary contributions, and originally it amounted to about $7,000. After the regiment was disbanded the fight began in the Supreme Court for the possession of the fund, which in the subsequent litigation has dwindled to about St.500.

Lawver Thomas, who appeared for the application, said Collins had informed the others that the money was invested in a mortgage, but when they went to look at the mortgage they found that it was lictifous. Cant. Collins, who appeared in person to oppose the application, said he had been informed that the others of the old regiment would steal the papers connected with the fund if they could get possession of them, and to lay a trap for them he had prepared a decoy mortgage.

Judge Stover declined to remove Capt. Collins, but decided that he would have to give security.

WAS BABY HERNE POISONED? His Mother Accuses Her Husband of Trying to Kill Him.

Mrs. J. C. Herne, known in certain theatrical circles as the "Georgian Magnet," brought her five-weeks-old boy infant to Bellevue Hospital yesterday morning and told the doctors a queer story of her child's illness. According to her story, she cast her husband off six weeks ago because he used morphine and also because she was tired of supporting him. When he left Blaney lay on the sidewalk surrounded by a | the house, she says, he threatened to kill the baby, and said he would pray night and day for his death. On Tuesday night, Mrs. Herne says, her busband came to her flat at 235 East Twen ty-seventh street in her absence, and seizing the baby, who lay in the cradle, began to thrust morphine powder down his throat. He was in-terrupted by Mrs. Herne's tweive-year-old daugnter by a former husband, who made an outers outery.

Herne ran away, drooping as he ran a phial of morphine pellets, which Mrs. Herne now has in her possession. The body, a few hours later, was seized with convensions.

On his neck, when admitted to Believue Hospital, there was some morphine powder. This, Dr. Bronwick says, in his opinion is the only morphine Baby lierne had about him, either inside or out. Baby Herne will live.

Widow Sues Widower for Breach of Promise. Too much attention to a widow has involved Herman Gaizen, expert accountant in the employ of the Clinton Wire Cloth Company of 76 Beckman street, in a suit for $20,000 damages. The widow is Mrs. Meta Buse, who keeps a boarding house at 106 Duane street. She is 27 boarding house at 100 Duane street. She is 27 years old, which is six years more than she was when she first met Gatzen. They became engaged, but there was trouble when he took her to the bail of the Theodore Koerner Liedertafel at Webster Hall in February of 1800 and introduced her to an acquaintance of his. This acquaintance proved himself no friend by telling her that Gatzen had a wife in Hamburg. Gatzen admitted it, but advanced as a palliating circumstance the fact that his wife was dying. Shortly afterward she died, and the old relations between the widower and the widow were resumed. resumed.

But he became cool, and about a year ago moved to Hoboken, since when she saw him seldom. When a month passed by without his calling she instituted the suit through her counsel, ex-Judge Henry Leonard. The papers have been served on Gatzen.

Fell Into a Vat of Botting Water. John Ducan, 30 years old, of 38 Greene street. Jersey City, an employee in the Stratford oakum works, was leaning over a vat of boiling water on Tuesday afternoon. He was prostrated by the heat and fell into the vat. Some of the workmen pulled him out, and he was taken to the City Hospital, where he died resterday. The doctors say that his injuries from the scaleing were superficial, and that he died from heat prostration.

Surrendered by Her Houdsman Josie Selbert, who testified in the trial of Mrs.

Etizabeth Harteil recently in the General Sessions that Parkhurst Agent Whitney was a frequent visitor to Mrs. Hartell's disorderly house in Eldridge street, was surrendered by her bonds-man yesterday, and was committed to the Tombs prison by Recorder Goff. She was in-dicted, on Whitney's complaint, for perjury, and was out on $1.500 bail. The Marta Barbert Jury Complete.

A jury was finally secured yesterday in the ieneral Sessions before Recorder Goff, who is trying Maria Barberi for the murder of Dorenice Cataldo on April 20. At 3 o'clock, when the tweith jurns took his seat, the Recorder adjourned court. The case for the people will be opened this morning by Assistant District Attorney Lauterbach.

Never Serve Out His Sentence. John Brookmeyer, a prisoner in the Kings county penitentiary, died at noon yesterday from injuries he received by jumping from the third tier of cells in the prison on Tuesday night. Brookmeyer was 70 years old, and had been sent to the penitentiary on Friday for one year's imprisonment on a charge of assault. He lived with his wife at 6714 Jamaica avenue. They quarrelled, and four weeks ago he stabled her. He was arrested and convicted. On his way to the penitentiary he told the driver of the prison van that he would never serve out his sentence. He was put to work in the shoe shop of the penitentiary, and on Tuesday night he marched in with the other prisoners from the workshop. When he reached the door of his cell on the third tier, he leaned over the railing above the flagged courtyard. A keeper ordered him to go into his cell. Instead of doing so he leaped over the rail, and fell a distance of thirty-five feet. When he was picked up it was found that he had fractured his skull. quarrelled, and four weeks ago he stabled her

Real Estate at Auction.

The rapid development of rapid transit in New York's suburbs, by electric railroads, has induced many shrewd and far-sighted business men to invest large y in suburban real estate, taking advantage of the advance in values always caused by cheap and rapid communication.

An exceptional opportunity to participate in these profitable investments is afforded by the great sale of superb building lots at Rosebank, Staten Island, which the Trustee of Erastus Wiman, to prevent foreclosure, is forced to sell at auction on Monday next, at 1:30 P. M., on the premises.

This property must be sold to neury a New Property with the demands of creditors.

FLATHUSH AV COR AV. C. BROOKLYS.

Cut this out for reference, as it will not appear during summer months after Sunday. It was purchased by Mr. Wiman many years ago as an investment, he shrewdly foreseeing that such a delightful situation and healthy soil would rapidly enhance its value.

The small investor may buy one or two of these lots at as low a figure as the capitalist. The advance in one or two jears will well repay any such purchaser. Lots adjoining this property have doubled in value in the past two years. 397 houses have been built in the immediate neighborhood within the past four

The Rosebank Station of the Rapid Transit R. R. adjoins the property. Fifty trains a day to and from the city in forty minutes. Commutation, 6kc.

Near at hand are stores, schools and churches of all denominations. There are fine streets, sewers, electric lights, gas and excellent
